Financial outcome with Masters as standalone - CNZ

Regional Qualification - CNZRT

- The key question is - do you want a Championships that requires a regional qualification due to time constraints or do you want a longer Championships?
- The details and the rules get created after the concept has been agreed on.

Things that will need to be considered include:

- What is the objective of Regional Qualification?
- How will this be achieved?
- Where and when will these be held?
- What does this mean for Centre Championships?
- What does this mean for the entry numbers at the championships?
- Who meets the cost of the regional qualification events?
- What additional resources will be needed?
- How will it effect areas that do not have an indoor velodrome?

What do other federations and other sports do? CNZ

- Cycling Canada: U17/U19/Para (3 days) and Elite/Masters (3 days)
- Cycling Australia: Consecutive championships with 2 days rest in between. Masters (4 days), U19/Elite/Para (5 days includes Omnium and Madison), U15/U17 (4.5 days).

Masters riders feedback

- Survey sent to 163 riders on the “Dromemasters” database
- 64 responses (56 licenced)
- Note they are mainly from the Waikato/Auckland region
- Preferred option would be to look at a stand alone Masters Championships.*
- Evidence to consider including more sprint and team events
- Second option would be remain connected with the junior riders.
- Proposed a couple of other format suggestions.
